Hurricane Changes Course To Head Out Across Ocean Waste

FLORIDA DANGER THOUGHT PASSED WITH MOVEMENT

Fl. Laureldale May Get Slight Backlash from Storm

TENSE FEELING STILL PREVAILS

Weather Nearly Normal, Sun Shines, Slight Wind Blowing

Orlando, Fla., Sept. 26.—The center of the West Indian hurricane has now recurred northward and is headed out to sea, according to advices from the Havana, Cuba, weather bureau, picked up here today by the naval reserve radio station.

It was feared, the advices said, that Fl. Laureldale may get a slight backlash from the storm.

Miami, Fla., Sept. 26.—The population of the entire east coast of Florida breathed a sigh of relief today upon the receipt of bulletins from Washington and Jupiter which indicated the hurricane is remaining almost stationary over the Caribbean sea and its course is uncertain.

The feeling of tenseness gripping the people since the first hurricane warnings were broadcast has not passed, however.

After waiting all night and morning for the winds to rise, residents here suffering from lack of sleep in prospect of a continued vigil.

The weather here is almost normal. A slight wind is blowing and sun is shining. Precipitation from the coast were reported heavily moving, with rising tendencies.

Miami, Fla., Sept. 26.—With fear abated by the knowledge that all in human power has been done to ward off catastrophe, Florida today awaited the violent tropical storm sweeping in from the sea that threatens to leave desolation in its wake.

After an anxious night of waiting, it was announced that the hurricane probably will not reach the east coast of Florida until well in the forenoon and possibly not until afternoon. This statement was (Continued on Page 4)

ENGINEER DIES IN TRAIN WRECK

Six Injured As Cars Topple In Creek; Heavy Rains

Macon, Ga., Sept. 26.—Edward W. Callahan, 48, engineer, was killed and six persons were injured, one probably fatally, when a central of Georgia passenger train ran through a washout near here early today.

The engine and three cars of the train plunged into the breach in the track and turned over.

The washout occurred near a small creek, four miles west of Wadley, Ga. Instantaneous rains, believed due to the tropical disturbance approaching the east coast of Florida, caused the creek to overflow.

Five passengers were slightly hurt. The negro fireman suffered injuries which may prove fatal.

Indicted Governor

GOVERNOR F. D. SAMPSON of Kentucky, who with seven members of the State Textbook Commission was indicted by the Franklin County Grand Jury, on charges that he received gifts from publishers to influence the award of orders for schoolbooks. No date has been set for trial and he is at liberty on a bond of $250.

MRS. PANTAGES FACES PRISON

Found Guilty In Death Of Japanese Man; Jury Weeps

Los Angeles, Sept. 26.—Mrs. Alexander Pantages today faces the penalty of one to 10 years imprisonment in the county jail for the death of Juro Rokumoto, Japanese gardener.

The jury of five women and seven men last night returned a verdict of manslaughter after more than eight hours' deliberation.

Mrs. Pantages, wife of the mill-lane theater operator, was brought to trial on a charge of second-degree murder after the automobile she was driving crashed into the car of Rokumoto, hurling his family into the street and fatally injuring him.

The state charged that she was intoxicated when it occurred.

According to reports from the jury room, the jurors at no time were in favor of acquitting the defendant. Their main point of debate was what charge she was guilty of—the count of murder or manslaughter, and the question of a recommendation for mercy.

The verdict, however, contained no recommendation for mercy.

Deathly pale and staring idly into space when the verdict was read by the clerk, Mrs. Pantages gasped audibly as the word "guilty" was uttered. She sat for minutes like a figure graven in gray stone while the court went through the red tape of legal procedure.

The jurors became on the instant something else than the cogs in the machinery of justice which they had been. Those who cried were unashamed of their tears as they sat, while the court clerk read their names in the final roll to which they answered.

Miners Use Picks To Wage Battle

Steubenville, O., Sept. 26.—A tragic scene, emblematic of days when "knights were bold" is today responsible for a charge of murder against Richard Riser, 43, a former prohibition agent, and the death of Dominic Bellasandra, 38, both coal miners, here.

The two men engaged in an argument yesterday, in a pit of the high shaft coal mine, and as they both became enraged each drew a pick. A fight ensued. Only when Bellasandra fell to the ground, the battle ended.

Riser, when charged with murder by Coroner A. L. Bell, contended he fought in self defense.

Miller Huggins Was Member Of Ohio State Bar

Columbus, O., Sept. 26.—A little card which was extracted from the files of the clerk of the Ohio supreme court here today cast a new light upon one era in the life of Miller J. Huggins, diminutive manager of the New York Yankees, who died in New York City yesterday.

Huggins, one of the greatest figures in American baseball, was at Orney licensed to practice in Ohio courts.

The card which was taken from the files, showed that Huggins passed the bar examination on December 6, 1902. At this time he was living in Cincinnati, his former home.

His license was canceled today and across it was written the word, "died."

MURDER TRIAL OF PEACOX TO REACH CLIMAX

Jury to Get Case Today; Attorneys To End Arguments

SIX VERDICTS ARE POSSIBLE

State To Attack Words Of Alienists Hired By Defense

Court House, White Plains, N. Y., Sept. 26.—Earle Peacock, the so-called "psychopathic personality" was of a sound mind when he strangled his bride, Dorothy, on the night of April 21, last, the first anniversary of their wedding. He "knew what he was doing."

This testimony was given today by a noted alienist, Dr. Menas Gregory, head of the psychopathic department of Bellevue hospital, New York City. Dr. Gregory was called to the stand by the prosecution to refute statements of two defense alienists who testified Wednesday that Peacock was a "psychopathic personality," who suffered from an "emotional storm" at the time he was choking his wife and therefore could not distinguish right from wrong.

Dr. Gregory was questioned by District Attorney Frank H. Coyne.

Court House, White Plains, N. Y., Sept. 26.—Earle Peacock, the "psychopathic personality" slayer of his young wife, Dorothy, may know his fate by nightfall.

The dance hall "sheik" trial is quickly drawing to a close. Something today the attorney's for both sides will sum up their cases, the judge will hand down his instructions and the case of "the People versus Peacock" will go to the jury.

Affront of half a dozen verdicts may be returned:

- 1.—First-degree murder. Punishable by death in the electric chair.
- 2.—Second-degree murder. Twenty years to imprisonment for life.
- 3.—First-degree manslaughter. Not exceeding 20 years in prison.

He is the youngest man that has ever held this rank in the Corps and is being very generally congratulated.

FORMER MAYOR STARTS TRIP TO OHIO STATE PEN

Athens Man Convicted Of Diverting Fines Of Court

Athens, O., Sept. 26.—Alex N. Moore, former Athens mayor and defeated Republican candidate for lieutenant governor in the last election, was today sentenced to serve 18 months in the Ohio state penitentiary on embezzlement charges.

Imposition of sentence by Judge L. O. Worstell took place in the same court room where Moore had formerly served two terms as clerk of courts.

The former mayor was sentenced on the specific charge of diverting a $100 fine in his court to his own use.

State examiners found a deficit in his books when they made an examination early this spring after Moore had resigned from his office and left town.

He had been twice elected mayor, and during his terms, according to the examiners, he is alleged to have embezzled $900.

A statewide police hunt was started for the man after he had left this city, but it was futile. Moore returned in about three months, however, and surrendered to police. He said he had gone away for a rest.

Moore was very prominent throughout the state where, because of his humorous after-dinner speeches, he became known as the "Will Rogers of Ohio."

After he was sentenced, the Athens county sheriff took him into custody. He had been free under bond. About an hour later, Moore, guarded by deputies, left Athens for the penitentiary at Columbus where they are expected to arrive sometime this afternoon.

Jury Will Decide Legality of Betting

Chardon, O., Sept. 26.—A jury of two women and ten men was charged with making the first legal test of the "contribution" system of race horse track betting in a court of record here when the case of Thomas McGinty, operator of the Bainbridge race track and three of his employees were to be heard.

McGinty, Homer J. Kline, and Max Slomovitz faced trial on charges preferred in connection with purported gambling activities at the race track by Joseph Johnson, secretary of the Geauga County Law Enforcement league. They pleaded not guilty. The cases are expected to be in the hands of the jury before night.

Divorce Dismissed In Record Time

SUSPECTS IN HOLDUP FREE AFTER ARREST

Station Attendant Fails To Identify Two Men Held

CANTON RESIDENT ALSO RELEASED

Police Continue Work With Only Minor Clues at Hand

With only a meager description of two armed bandits who early yesterday morning held up and robbed the Pennell gasoline filling station, Roosevelt ave., to assist them, Salem police were today continuing investigations of the case, following the arrest and release of three suspects.

Ross Ryerson, 340 East Oxford and Paul Madegon, 516 South Orchard, both of Alliance, were arrested by Alliance authorities Wednesday afternoon at the request of Salem police, and were brought to this city for questioning by Ralph Stoffer, city patrolman on special duty since partial recovery from an injury sustained in the accidental discharge of a riot gun three months ago.

The men were released after William Underwood, Sharp st. attend. ant at the station when it was held up and robbed, failed to identify any of the bandits.

Taken Into Custody. They were taken into custody on suspicion charges after police reported seeing an automobile in this city bearing the license number which was traced to them, at an early hour on the morning of the robbery.

Noah Jordan, of Canton, who was picked up on a charge of suspicion by police thirty minutes after the robbery occurred, was also released after relatives appeared and accounted for his presence on the city's streets at that early hour. Underwood also failed to identify him as one of the holdups.

A check-up of receipts of the filling station showed that the bandits "used" approximately $100 in cash and merchandise in the raid.

The hold-up occurred about 2:15 a. m. Wednesday. The bandits entered the station and flashed revolvers on Underwood, forcing him into a washroom, while they ransacked two cash drawers and made their get-away with cash and cigars, candy, cigarettes and other merchandise.

TOWN IN RUINS AFTER FLOODS

No Life Loss Reported In Area; Trains Delayed

Albuquerque, N. M., Sept. 26.—The town of San Marcial, 100 miles south of here, was in complete ruins today with only half a dozen buildings left standing as the flood waters of the Rio Grande had left a trail of devastation in their wake.

San Acacia and Polvadera, villages to the north of San Marcial, and San Antonio to the south, are reported to have been completely wiped out.

No loss of life has been reported. Fifty San Marcial residents who were marooned in the Santa Fe railroad station were rescued in a motor boat sent from Elephant Butte. They were transferred to dry land west of the town.

All communication with the stricken area has been cut off. Albuquerque is virtually marooned today, with airplanes the only means of transportation between here and Santa Fe and here and El Paso, Tex., as a result of the torrential rains which sent the Rio Grande on its rampage.

The supply of airplane gas for local airports is stalled several miles away in tank cars and planes are forced to go miles out of their way to Santa Fe to refuel.

Ohio Women Elect Officers For Year

Dayton, O., Sept. 26.—Officers of the Lutheran Women's Missionary Synod of Ohio, who were elected at the closing session of the organization's annual conference here today, are:

Will Entertain

MRS. HERBERT HOOVER, first lady of the land, will entertain Premier Ramsay MacDonald and his daughter during their visit in Washington. Since news of the British statesman's trip to this country has been confirmed, Washington society is fearful that the question of seating will again come up as it is probable that Mrs. Dolly Gann, sister of Vice President Curtis will demand that she outrank Lady Isabella Howard, wife of the British Ambassador, who will be hostess to the MacDonalds.

CHURCH BATTLE GROWING WARM

Congregation Divided In Selection of Pastor; Stand Fast

Alliance, Sept. 26.—With both groups standing firm, Sunday mornings as the "zero" hour in the threatened fight over the pulpit of the United Brethren church here.

Spoken of the official church board who had voted unanimously early this week to stand behind Rev. John Wesley May, the present pastor, have reiterated their intention of supporting their supply pastor until a mutually satisfactory agreement could be reached with denominational leaders.

Bishop A. R. Clippinger of Dayton, head of the denomination in this area, declared in a long distance conversation that Rev. May was no longer a member of the conference as he had not presented his credentials at the East Ohio conference recently closed in Barborton.

"Rev. L. H. Higginbotham is pastor of the Alliance church," said Bishop Clippinger. "He was appointed to the pulpit by the stationing committee at Barborton and he will be in Alliance Sunday to take the pulpit. If the supporters of Rev. May want him as their pastor, they will have to meet in some other place."

United States To Alaska Road Asked

Washington, Sept. 26.—Alaskans are attempting to make one of their fondest dreams come true—a dream for a highway from Alaska to the United States.

An organized movement is under way to interest the Canadian and American governments in the construction of approximately 1,000 miles of a proposed 1,700 mile road between Fairbanks, the "Golden Heart of Alaska," and Seattle, Wash.

The estimated cost is $7,000,000. About 700 miles of highway along the proposed road already has been constructed.

Pershing Laughs At Shooting Report

Paris, Sept. 26.—Gen. John J. Pershing laughed heartily, but refused to comment, when told here today of a rumor broadcast in New York that he had accidentally shot Supreme Court Justice Lyndon B. Johnson in the face during a game hunt in Scotland.

When an International News Service reporter asked General Pershing point blank if it was true he had accidentally shot his fellow hunter, the general replied: "Did you ever know me to talk about my personal affairs?"

PLANES, BLIMPS TO PERFORM IN AIR OVER CITY

Four Planes To Take Part In Event; Will Stunt

DOLL CARRIAGE EVENT FEATURED

Decorated Bicycles Also In Juvenile Division; Decorate City

With at least four planes and one blimp circling over city, the committees in charge of the Salem Business Bureau's community festival will offer the crowds that visit the city Saturday plenty of entertainment in the air as well as on the streets and at the parks. The chairman of the aviation committee, received word Thursday from the Goodyear Zeppelin corporation of Akron that one blimp will sail over Salem from 1:30 to 2:30 p. m. Saturday. Two blimps were scheduled to perform in the city's air circus, but the Goodyear company finds it is necessary to send one blimp to Detroit to do duty for one just put out of commission.

Two stunt flyers from Canton will entertain the crowds at Centennial park later in the afternoon and a Firestone tri-motor Ford plane will fly over the city between 12 and 1 p. m. Verne Christen, former Salem boy, now a government transport pilot, announces that he will do a few stunts in the air about 11 a. m. after the parade. He will drop a card which will entitle the holder and a friend to a free trip over Salem and surrounding country. Christen will have his plane on the Lisbon rd. north of the Salem Golf club.

Doll Carriage Parade. Interest in the doll carriage and decorated bicycle features of the parade Saturday morning is increasing among the children. Four prizes of $5, $2.50, $1.50 and $1 are offered for each event and every child who enters a doll carriage will receive a prize. Girls 10 years and under are eligible and they are requested to have their doll carriages at Pershing and Broadway in plenty of time to enter the parade at 10 a. m. The committee in charge includes Mrs. W. F. Ekstein, Mrs. J. W. Asury, Mrs. J. A. Harwood and Miss Doris Chandler.

Prizes for several classes of horses to be entered in the parade and the horse show to follow at Reilly field are attracting wide interest and many draft horses will be brought several miles to participate. Several antique vehicles also are expected to be entered. The committee announces that each auto dealer may enter one auto in the parade.

Horse Hitching Explained. Another attraction just announced will be a demonstration of horse hitching by an expert from Ohio State university.

The window letter contest, starting Friday and continuing through Saturday, is expected to prove interesting. All retail merchants who have contributed to the festival fund have been given letters which must be formed with some article sold by the store and displayed in the windows. These letters form a phrase and prizes are offered for those who put the letters together correctly. In addition to the list of contributors announced recently, the Square Deal garage and the Sunkist market have contributed.

To put the business district in its attire, merchants are requested to display flags during the two days of the festival, Friday and Saturday. Factories in the city will be closed during the day, and, weather permitting, an unusually large crowd is expected in the city during the big festival.

Trains Halt

New York, Sept. 26.—All trains of the Norfolk and Western Railroad company halted for one minute at 10:30 a. m. today, as a tribute to N. D. Maher, former president of the road, who died Tuesday.

OPERATING OHIO

Government is an expensive thing, albeit a necessary function. Take Ohio, for instance. The state anticipates revenue of $72,773,000 during the year now drawing to a close. This money will go into operating expenses of the several departments. The Ohio Chamber of Commerce figures the state highway department revenue at $34,404,000 general revenue, $24,449,000, and special revenue, $13,929,000.

The general revenue fund used to carry on all general functions of the government, is raised by special taxes on business and the fruits of business. Corporation franchise taxes paid by domestic corporations only amount to $4,500,000, while foreign corporations transacting business in Ohio are expected to pay in approximately a million dollars into this fund this year.

Incorporation fees of domestic corporations will add another million, while foreign corporation fees will bring in about $200,000 for this fund.

The most important item in the revenues of the state highway department—which, by the way, has come to be a very important part of the state government since the gasoline and other motor excise tax has been applied—is the gas tax. The state's share of this tax for construction purposes only will amount to $13,000,000; the state's share for maintenance and repair will amount to $7,800,000.

The state's share of the automobile license fees used in maintenance and repair of state highways amounts to $6,200,000. The state's share of motor transportation company fees amounts to $150,000 while the federal aid coming to Ohio and used on federal aid projects amounts only to $2,754,000.

There are eight counties in the state with a tax duplicate of more than $300,000,000. These may cooperate in reconstruction of state highways. The amount of their cooperation is more or less a matter of conjecture, but conservatively is estimated at $4,000,000.

It does take a lot of money to keep the ship of state in operation, and it probably is a good thing that the road building program is financed to a large extent by the highway users themselves. Pay as you ride is not a bad slogan, inasmuch as it is possible to ride into any part of Ohio without getting off all-weather pavement.

What Others Say

AGE AND THE BENCH

An enterprising reporter calls attention to the fact that three justices of the United States supreme court are eligible for retirement on full pay for life at any time they care to and that Chief Justice Taft will reach that stage in 1931. The three who meet the requirement provisions of being seventy or more years of age and with at least ten years on the supreme court to their credit, are Associate Justices Oliver Wendell Holmes, Willis Van Devanter and Louis D. Brandeis. None of the three, fortunately for the country, shows any desire to retire.

Chief Justice Taft is past seventy years of age, but lacks nearly two years of having completed the ten years necessary to retirement on full pay. He too, gives every indication of remaining in harness. Justice Holmes, the oldest man ever to have sat on the supreme bench. He is eighty-eight years old, has been on the court for twenty-seven years and prior to that was a member of the Massachusetts supreme court for twenty years. Justice Van Devanter is seventy-three.

Longevity and long service have been characteristic of the men who have held places on the federal supreme bench. In the 140 years of the court's existence only seventy-eight men have been appointed to it, including the nine present members. When John Marshall's time all of the chief justices have died in service, all of them save Salmon P. Chase living to be more than seventy. Marshall dying at eighty, had had thirty-four years on the court. Chief Justice Taney, who lived to be eighty-seven, had been on the court for twenty-eight years. Nearly fifty of those who have sat on this august court have served it for ten years or more.

The army and the navy, sometimes unwisely, it seems, set an arbitrary age retirement limit of sixty-four. To make it compulsory for members of the supreme court to retire at a given age would be as unnecessary as it would be unfortunate. The average of the present court is close to seventy and at no time has its docket been so clean nor has its work been handled so expeditiously. As long as a member of the court gives good service, cares to continue in office, and enjoys reasonable good health the nation needs the benefit of his wisdom and experience. The accident of age is not always the final test of a man's usefulness.—Ohio State Journal

COLUMBIANA

Att'y Joel Sharp, Salem Rotarian, was the speaker at the meeting of the Columbian Rotary club Monday evening. He was the first of a series of speakers on legal subjects which will be studied by the club during the next few months. The subject assigned to Mr. Sharp was "Husband and Wife," and he talked in an interesting and instructive manner on the marriage laws, customs and legal rights of husband and wife. The meeting next week will be held in Grace Reformed church, with the Ladies' Aid society serving the supper. The members of the school faculty, and of the board of education will be the guests of the Rotarians at this meeting. John S. Alan, superintendent of the Salem schools, will be the speaker for this occasion.

Eight girl friends of the Misses Mary and Martha Zimmerman gave them a house warming surprise party Monday in their new quarters in the Mrs. Virginia Felger property. The evening was spent playing bridge and a lunch was served. The following were present: Misses Helen Lodge, Camille McBurney, Myrtle Crawford, Helen Crawford, Nellie Keyser, Florence Hively, Lois Reiler and Sara Snyder.

Guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Elba Wilhelm, West Park ave., were: Mr. and Mrs. John Doyle and family, Salem; Mr. and Mrs. Charles McBride, Beaver Falls; Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Easton and Charles Blackburn, Beaver, Pa.; and Mr. and Mrs. Ross Sheets and family.

Dr. and Mrs. W. T. Hahn, Youngstown, and Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Norris and family, Akron, were week end guests of Mrs. Jacob Renkenberger and daughters, North Elm st.

MOVIES

"MOTHER'S BOY"

Twenty all hat down and out penitents of the famous Tom Noonan Mission in New York's Chinatown, including a former German nobleman, an old time stage player, discredited and disgraced sons of well to do families, appear in the Gospel Mission sequences of Pathé's all dialogue picture "Mother's Boy," which will be on view at the State Theatre for three days beginning tonight. Morton Downey is the star.

The delegation of drifters, played their parts with unction and fidelity to type. Each man had visions of what the fruits of his labor, $15.00 per man, would accrue to him in the form of cash. "Smoke" and drapes, the result being a ready compliance to instructions. When they sang "Onward Christian Soldiers" over and over again they grinned their satisfaction and when a sumptuous free lunch was announced, the stampeded to the banquet in regular Bowery style.

The Mission preacher was impersonated by Leslie Stone, a veteran stage player who appeared in support of Edwin Booth Lawrence Barret and other stars of the past generation.

The story of "Mother's Boy," written by Gene Mackay, has to do with the fortunes of Mrs. O'Day, her husband and two sons, lecherous devils on the East Side in New York. One of the boys is good, the other bad and when the latter steals his father's hard-earned money, the good brother bravely shoulders his crime. He quits home and while his mother's heart is breaking, he wins fame as a singer and ultimately provides his humble parents with a palatial apartment on Riverside Drive. There is an absorbing love romance which has been finely developed, and the action throughout is dramatic and thrilling, with a judicious admixture of comedy.

Stage players of prominence are featured. These include: among others, Helen Chandler, Barbara Bennett, John T. Doyle, Osgood Perkins, Beryl Mercer, Bryan Donlevy, Lorin Baker and Leslie Stone.

"STOLEN LOVE"

Repression of youth's problem and as the ages but which appears to be pressing for solution today more than ever before—is the theme of the drama, "Stolen Love," now on view at the Royal Theatre, and filmed serial story.

Because her spinster aunt, who were her guardians, were of that overcautious and domineering school of domestic thought that sees wrong, danger and unhappiness in the natural desire of growing youth for freedom, the girl of the story is driven to seek "Stolen Love" outside their sheltering walls.

On their side, the aunts feel they are doing not only their duty but extending loving care and protection to the girl. But what thrilling developments ensue when their ward escapes from that protection into the danger zone of a waiting world makes an absorbing picture. The story is portrayed by a stellar cast, headed by Marceline Day, Owen Moore, Rex Lease and Betty Hylton.

Tommy Loughran Battles Jack Sharkey At Yank Field Tonight

Winner Will Qualify For Crack At Title; Knockout Necessary

Baseball World Stunned By Death Of New York Manager

BY DAVIS J. WALSH
New York, Sept. 26.—This year of grace—but not much—in heavy-weight boxing will attempt to die with a 15-round finale between Tommy Loughran and Jack Sharkey at the Yankee stadium, the event being 1929's gift to posterity.

Ohio College Football

Berea, Sept. 26.—Baldwin-Wallace will open the season Saturday when it invades northwest Ohio and takes on the strong Bowling Green eleven. The Falcons, who last year won the conference championship, are likely to run up a large score against the Beavers. Only 29 men have reported to Coach Ray Watts. Nine of these are veterans from last year's squad.

Alliance, Sept. 26.—Mount Union's football team has upset the pre-season hope of the scribes and exceeded the hopes of the coaches so far. With more than a week of intensive practice under their belts, Coach Thorpe's lads appear to possess considerable strength. They should give the Michigan Wolverines no easy task in their game Saturday.

Columbus, Sept. 25.—Only five lettermen will be in the line-up of capital University's eleven when it lines up against Muskingum Saturday. Bridgewater is the only back-field man who shows promise in the ball-carrying division and Mechning and Anderson will bear the brunt of the attack in the forward wall.

Westerville, Sept. 25.—Otterbein's small first squad is working over time this week in preparing for the opening game Saturday against Wooster on the latter's field. Dutch Lee, former scholastic star of Dayton, has been showing well at the quarterback post. Clipping, end, has shown a decided improvement over last year's performance and will be one of the mainstays of the team this year.

Granville, Sept. 26.—Coach Edson and his Denison university ball squad, comprising 25 men early today for Annapolis where they tackle the strong navy team Saturday. The big red squad will arrive at the Naval Academy Friday morning and will have a morning workout in the afternoon.

no owner and so far as anyone knows, this parous state of affairs still will prevail when the last cinch is unraveled this evening.

There is no champion to defend the title; there probably will be none tomorrow morning. There may even be no fight, rain being indicated by the forecast.

Sharkey perhaps is the stand-out in a field of rather dubious contenders and Loughran, making his first fight as a heavyweight after a remarkable career as bellowether of the class below, can hardly hope to win a championship on one performance against a man who is not the champion. That would seem to be logic and the Muldoon-Tunney committee, hugging its masterpiece in its bosom, probably is prepared to be defiantly logical.

This sterling body of men is likely to be moved by only one circumstance. If either man wins by a knockout, the committee might be stamp-d into rendering unto him the things that were Tunney's. The committee could do worse. Anything as definite as a knockout tonight could mean only that the man who lands it is the absolute class of his division.

Schmeling Still Figures
As it is the man who wins either by a decision or on a foul will have none save Schmeling to say him nay. The rest of them don't seem to figure. This makes tonight's affair a sort of hybrid championship fight; the winner may not get the title, per se, but he will qualify himself for a spot where he can see that nobody else does, either.

There may be as many as 45,000 in the stadium and as much as $225,000 in the till when they ring the bell at or about 10 o'clock, eastern daylight time, tonight. The garden corporation may need more than this to get their books out of the carmine on the proposition but, considering the general apathy of the populace toward all boxing and the fact that neither man is supposed to be a puncher, the gate is doing well enough.

It got the benefit of the doubt, in fact, when the suspicion became active that the gentlemen involved do not care for each other in a big way. This will be something of a "hate" fight and that kind always looks good, even when they hit each other terrific clouts on the palm of the hand.

Babe's Home Run Crown Not Secure As Youngsters Clout

By HENRY McCLEMORE
New York, Sept. 26.—Causes to be piled No. 3311, Babe Ruth.

No sooner does old George Herman ease himself out in front and settle down for a little nap than the yapping youngsters come galloping up to disturb his peace. A few days ago it seemed as if the Babe's home run crown was secure for another year—now it appears that unless he slips out of his slump the crown may adorn more classical brows.

For Mel Ott, Giant White hope, went off on a spree and ran his total to 42. Yesterday, as the Phillies trimmed the Robins twice.

Miller Huggins, Native Ohioan, Dies Following Brave Battle For Life

New York, Sept. 26.—The baseball world and its many millions of fans were today mourning the death of one of the national game's greatest personalities. Miller Huggins, manager of the New York Yankees, and the man who led the Gothamites to six pennants and three world championships in eight years, died at 2:15 p. m. Wednesday.

The midget manager, a native Ohioan having been born in Cincinnati 49 years ago, put up a game fight for his life. Death came yesterday afternoon following a gallant battle against the ravages of erysipelas and influenza, the former resulting from a small boil on his face and the latter having set in after he was bedfast for several days.

Miller James Huggins was born in Cincinnati, March 27, 1880, and spent his childhood and youth in the Ohio town. It was there that he first learned the principles of baseball, playing the game on the Cincinnati sandlots.

Ever a midget in size, Hug made his spirit count for the lack of poundage and became a regular at the University of Cincinnati where he studied law. At the end of his college career he was offered a baseball job and for some time he was torn between the two loves. Baseball finally won however, and in 1899 he signed a contract with the Mansfield (O.) club and since that time he had never been out of baseball.

He went with the St. Paul club in 1900 and remained there for four years as a second baseman.

Breaks Into Majors
Huggins broke into the big leagues with the Cincinnati club where he remained for years, finally going to St. Louis where he assumed the management of the Cardinals.

Once he went to St. Louis, Hug quit active play entirely and devoted his time to managing the club. At St. Louis he met with success, taking his club to third place, which was the highest position a Cardinal club had ever held in all previous baseball history.

It was in St. Louis too, that Hug brought up Rogers Hornshy—his most important baseball discovery. Hornshy, a raw kid in Texas, was for sale for $500, and after a great deal of argument and hagaling, Huggins prevailed on the St. Louis owners to buy him.

To this day, Hornshy not only gives Huggins credit for discovering him, but for developing his batting style as well.

Goes to Yanks in 1918

In 1918 Col. Ruppert and Col. Huston, then joint owners of the Yankees, brought Huggins to New York. His start here was not auspicious. His players at first refused to respect him. Col. Huston was his sworn enemy, and many sport writers and followers were opposed to him. During that period Huggins was the butt for newspaper attacks that would have completely wrecked the nerve of a lesser man than Hug, but he continued to bear down.

The result was a pennant winner in 1921 and a world's championship in 1923. Since that time he has won six pennants and three world series—a record equaled only by Connie Mack, who was a baseball manager when Huggins broke into the game as a rookie.

The high light of Huggins' career probably came in 1923 when, with

Colonial Billiards Meet Mill Creek Here Sunday

With "Indian summer" still making baseball weather a material factor in fall sports, the Colonial Billiards, boasting a presentable season's record, will play still another post-season affair, meeting the strong Mill Creek aggregation, at Centennial park, at 2:30 Sunday afternoon.

The two aggregations met at Mill Creek last Sunday, Salem emerging an eighth place club he was struggling against adverse sentiment both among the players and the fans. Ruth was cutting up, other players were disregarding rules and scoffing at his discipline.

Then Hug fined the Babe $5,000 and made it stick. From that time on the players learned real respect for him.

Much has been written about Hug's troubles with his players, most of it is bunk. There isn't a man on the Yankee club today but respected his ability and his purpose; there wasn't a man on the club but would go to any limit for him. They were proud of Huggins in their own way, just as he, in his quiet way, has always been proud of his players.

ing the winner, through hard hitting by Frank Scullion, by a 7-5 score. Scullion succeeded Ted Scott at first base and clouted out two triples and a double in three trips to the plate.

The Billiards pasted offerings of J. Schwartz, former hurler in the International league for 16 hits, while Chet Drakulich hurled his best game of the season, holding the villagers to six safeties.

Expect Large Crowd
Manager Slim Early promises Salem ball fan the best game of the season, and anticipates that a large crowd of spectators will be on hand to view the fracas. Freddie Bova, Lefty Brady, Pete Sanders, outfield; Shorty Horton, 3b; Frankie Corso, 2b; Scott or Scullion 1b, and Pete Sartick, ss, with Curt Shepard, catch and either Drakulich or Joe Hrovatic pitching, will form the Salem lineup.

The lineup for Mill Creek follows: Primm 1b; P. Schwartz 3b; Keeler ss; Miller cf; A. Shepard 2b; Coy lf; G. Miller rf; Calladine 1b, and Pete and J. Schwartz, p.

Sun-Tan Is The Fashion!

AN ANCIENT PREJUDICE HAS BEEN REMOVED

False modesty is a relic of an ancient prejudice. AMERICAN INTELLIGENCE has cut it away and, in behalf of better health and pure enjoyment, sponsors the fashion of sensible swimming attire.

"toasting did it"—

Gone is that ancient prejudice against cigarettes—Progress has been made. We removed the prejudice against cigarettes when we removed harmful corrosive ACRIDS (pungent irritants) from the tobaccos.

YEARS ago, when cigarettes were made without the aid of modern science, there originated that ancient prejudice against all cigarettes. That criticism is no longer justified. LUCKY STRIKE, the finest cigarette you ever smoked, made of the choicest tobacco, properly aged and skillfully blended—"It's Toasted."

"TOASTING," the most modern step in cigarette manufacture, removes from LUCKY STRIKE harmful irritants which are present in cigarettes manufactured in the old-fashioned way.

Everyone knows that heat purifies, and so "TOASTING"—LUCKY STRIKE'S extra secret process—removes harmful corrosive ACRIDS (pungent irritants) from LUCKIES which in the old-fashioned manufacture of cigarettes cause throat irritation and coughing. Thus "TOASTING" has destroyed that ancient prejudice against cigarette smoking by men and by women.

"It's toasted"

No Throat Irritation-No Cough.

"It's Toasted"—the phrase that describes the extra "toasting" process applied in the manufacture of Lucky Strike Cigarettes. The finest tobaccos—the Cream of the Crop—are scientifically subjected to penetrating heat at minimum, 260°—maximum, 300°, Fahrenheit. The exact, expert regulation of such high temperatures removes impurities. More than a slogan, "It's Toasted" is recognized by millions as the most modern step in cigarette manufacture.

Why wait another year to own an Eight . . . ?

You'll be out of date within a year without an EIGHT!

It's evident on every hand—America wants to stay in high gear!

The public knows that extra gear shifting and other engineering devices applied to a six-cylinder motor will not give the smoothness and flexibility of an eight.

The fine cars started it. Now we find the same sweeping trend among cars of moderate cost. In eight key states for the first six months of 1929, registrations above $1000 showed a 90 per cent increase in Eights while sixes above $1000 showed a decrease of 16 per cent.

Studebaker today leads the world in the manufacture of Eights—Eights that hold 11 world records for speed and endurance and more American stock car records than all other makes combined—Eights which are remarkably economical—smooth, flexible, brilliant.

Before investing in your new car, drive a smart new Studebaker Eight—President, Commander or Dictator. Measure it point for point and feature for feature against the best six that you know. Then remember—your new car will be worth more a year from now— if it's an Eight!—for Eights will then be at a premium in a used car market glutted with sixes.

"Konjola Gave Me Glorious New Health"

Grateful Canton Lady Describes Wonderful Relief New Medicine Brought Her

MRS. KATIE MILLER

"I owe all my glorious new health to this wonderful new medicine, Konjola," said Mrs. Katie Miller, 731 Alexander Place, Canton, Ohio. "My stomach was in a very poor condition and was a source of constant worry to me. Food soured in my stomach and a hot, sour liquid would come up into my throat. I was constipated and the strongest laxative gave me only temporary relief. Neuritis soon took hold."

"At last I am free from all my miseries. Thanks to Konjola. My food digests and gas no longer bothers me. The sour liquid does not come up into my throat. My appetite has returned. I have forgotten that I ever had constipation. My kidneys have been restored to normal. The neuritis pains have been driven from my body. I am thankful for what Konjola has done for me."

Konjola is sold in Salem, O., at all J. H. Lease drug stores, and by all the best druggists and in all the towns throughout this entire section.—Adv.

SAVE WITH ICE

What happens in a good ICE refrigerator

ICE, in a properly constructed and operated refrigerator, creates a constant circulation of pure, cold air, thus removing food odors through the outlet and preventing unappetizing interchange of food flavors. The cycle of air in a well ice refrigerator is exactly as shown in the right-hand illustration. And it is this constant circulation of cold purified air which explains the incomparable freshness of ICE-kept foods.

To enable ICE to serve you most satisfactorily, be sure you have a refrigerator that is well insulated, tightly joined together and built to let air circulate freely. We shall be glad to help you select a properly constructed refrigerator and to see that it is kept well filled with ice.
